

For Overseas

Founded in 1911, The University of Hong Kong is committed to the highest international standards of excellence in teaching and research, and has been at the international forefront of academic scholarship for many years. The University has a comprehensive range of study programmes and research disciplines spread across 10 faculties and about 100 subdivisions of studies and learning. There are over 23,400 undergraduate and postgraduate students coming from 50 countries, and more than 1,200 members of academic and academic-related staff, many of whom are internationally renowned.

Associate Professor and Assistant Professor in Information and Innovation Management (Ref.: 201100542)

Applications are invited for tenure-track appointments as Associate Professor and Assistant Professor in Innovation and Information Management from July 1, 2012 on a three-year fixed-term basis with the possibility of renewal, or on tenure for exceptionally outstanding candidates.

Applicants should have a Ph.D. degree in Information Systems or related areas. The appointees should be able to teach courses in undergraduate, master, doctoral and executive programs and are expected to commit to high-quality scholarly research, teaching and services. Experience in teaching MBA courses for the Associate Professor position is a must. Information about the Faculty and the School can be obtained at <http://www.fbe.hku.hk/> and <http://www.business.hku.hk/> respectively.

A highly competitive salary commensurate with qualifications and experience will be offered. The appointments will attract a contract-end gratuity and University contribution to a retirement benefits scheme, totaling up to 15% of basic salary, as well as leave, and medical/dental benefits. Housing benefits will be provided as applicable.

Interested candidates should submit a covering letter, a full C.V., three reference letters, recent research papers and relevant MBA teaching evaluations to Mrs. Henrietta Yim at hyim@business.hku.hk. The short-listed candidates will be invited for interviews at ICIS. Candidates who are not contacted within 6 months of the date of their applications may consider their applications unsuccessful.

The University is an equal opportunity employer